Engineers Fight to CAN Hunger 9th Annual Engineers Competition

Hollidaysburg, PA - Stiffler McGraw, a full service consulting firm offering civil engineering, surveying and architectural design services, is pleased to announce they competed against other engineering firms in the area by collecting donations for the American Rescue Workers (ARW) for the ninth year.

The 9th Annual Engineers Fight to CAN Hunger competition officially began on February 1st and ran through National Engineer's Week; February 18th through February 24th. During this time frame, Stiffler McGraw collected donations from employees and any cash donations received was matched by the company to shop for more items.

The collected food was delivered to the American Rescue Workers on Friday, February 23, 2018. Each firm's donation was loaded on a pallet jack and weighed. The winner was determined by dividing the firm's number of employees into the weight; the firm with the highest weight per employee won. This year's winner was McLanahan's with a total of 2,852 pounds collected with 89.13 pounds per employee.

This year's competition involved, Stiffler McGraw, Keller Engineers, Gwin, Dobson and Foreman and McLanahan Corp. Admin & Engineering. PennDOT District 9 also participated in the event by contributing a monetary donation. The competition is formed to help those in our community who need it most. All firms participating are here to make a difference, give generously and help those in our community who need it most.

Here are this year's overall results:

2018 Engineers Fight to CAN Hunger
Firm	Number of Employees	Pounds Donated	Pounds Per Employee
