Indiana, PA – Stiffler McGraw, a full service consulting firm offering civil engineering, surveying and architectural design services, headquartered in Hollidaysburg, PA, is excited to announce the opening of their Indiana office. The key contacts for the new office will be Gary Wisor, P.E., a shareholder and Vice President of Stiffler McGraw and Kevin Evans, P.E., LEED AP, PMP.

In honor of opening the office, Stiffler McGraw has joined the Indiana County Chamber of Commerce and will host a Grand Opening Ribbon Cutting Event on Friday, Oct. 30, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. Breakfast refreshments will be served. If you would like to attend the event, please R.S.V.P. to the Chamber of Commerce at 724.465.2511 or jmountain@indianacountychamber.com.

The new office is located at 39 N. Seventh Street, Suite 001 in the Old Borough Hall in Indiana. In addition to this new location, Stiffler McGraw also maintains offices in Blair, Bedford, Bradford and Warren Counties.

“Indiana is an exciting place for our newest expansion,” said President, Timothy A. Cooper, P.E. “We look forward to better serving our existing Indiana clients and projects, as well as making new friends in the community.”

Public and private sector clients with projects in Indiana will benefit from Stiffler McGraw’s comprehensive services which include, municipal engineering, water and wastewater engineering, transportation engineering, environmental engineering, land development, surveying, structural services, architecture services, landscape architecture and construction services.

Stiffler McGraw has been providing its range of services for their current clients in the area for over 25 years and with the opening of the new office, the company is hoping to become an even stronger presence in the area.
